LOGAN FIRTH

Logan Firth will appear as the event ambassador at the Canberra Disability Expo's opening ceremony on Friday, September 12th

Logan Firth is a Canberra-based historical fiction author whose debut novel, Sydney's Convicts, brings Australia's colonial past to life through compelling storytelling. As the proud ambassador for the Canberra Disability Expo 2025, Logan is excited to help spotlight an event that celebrates inclusion, opportunity, and the unique strengths of the disability community.

"Hi there, my name is Logan Firth, a historical fiction author, who is very excited to be your official ambassador for the Canberra Disability & WorkAbility Expo! The expo shows you all of the amazing opportunities awaiting you out there. From the arts to the kitchens, to technology, to service, and more- your superpowers make everything a truly enriching experience for all!"

Living with mental and medical conditions myself, the expo has shown me how a beautiful community built on strength, endurance, and hope- inspires the ever evolving workplaces. Being a writer, this has shaped my confidence to use the historical world of the past, to showcase the golden talents of the disabled Australians. Rest to assure, I practise self-care in my dedication as a member of the powerful Scouts Australia movement, horse riding, reading, and travelling the vast world. Now, I invite you to walk the journey with me to unlock the true potentials calling your name!
